

Inside the back to roots residence of a NRI Couple

For our young, dynamic and spiritual NRI couple customers, when they purchased their first house in the homeland, it was essential it represented their culture and roots.

Asset Interiors/Customisation department has incorporated the traditional element in various parts of the house. The colour scheme, woodwork in rooms, upholstery selection, wall accents, design of Pooja corner was all carefully crafted keeping in mind these aspects.

Entrance Foyer

At the very entrance of the house, Nataraj's idol has been crafted using CNC cut-out panelling with back light. Apart from imparting the foyer area a traditional look, it also has served the purpose of concealing the DB box of the flat.

Living and Dining Space

For the formal living area, a colour play of muted earthy tones has been used.

The colours are brought out through complimentary accents, in the form of a feature textured wall and furnishings in warm colours.

A combination of glass and laminate finish is used to form a partition between the formal living room and the dining area.

A case of clever Light Play

The effects of a well lit space is one of the features where interiors team has given special emphasis. The customised false ceiling, light points, are designed in such a manner that it gives an elongated effect to the dining area and the family living room.

For the bedroom, the headboard was creatively crafted using extensive wood work and strip lights, to give a unique three - dimensional effect. Even for the kitchen cabinets customised strip lights are provided.

THE CLIENT SPEAKS

Ashwin and Dhanashree (Proud owners of Chiraag 17B)

Our flat with Asset is very special and dear to us since this is our first home together as a couple. Keeping this in mind, we both had many dreams and ideas to convert this flat into our home. We were in search of a partner who could guide, help and translate our concept of interior decoration with a professional touch.

After a couple of shortlists, we approached the Asset Interiors team since their past projects and reviews looked very impressive. Asset Interiors team has been professional in their approach from the very beginning. Mr.Thambi was leading our project and every meeting with him and his team has been satisfactory since they very patiently understood our needs, desires and expectations and married them with their expertise.

Since we reside outside of India, we were initially worried about monitoring the progress, however this was sorted since the Asset team ensured they shared with us regular updates with photos and videos. This helped us to give immediate feedback if needed and be excited about our sweet home being built gradually. The outcome post completion of the project exceeded our expectations and made us proud owners when we heard comments from family like "Great interiors, love the work"

Overall, we are happy customers of Asset Interiors, most importantly because our relation with the team did not end with the completion of the project. They made sure they were only a call away if we needed on any support post this phase too.
